

TURNED RIFLE
ON HERSELFMiss Hattie Kimball Committed Suicide.

HAD BEEN DESPONDENT

She Had Been in Poor Health Some Weeks and Has Had Some Difficulty With Her Head, It Is Said.Bristol, N. H., June 26.—The little town of Hebron is in unusual excitement, since the word rapidly spread yesterday afternoon that Miss Hattie Kimball was dead. Miss Kimball was found soon after dinner in the barn, where she had died from a rifle shot, undoubtedly by her own hand.Miss Kimball, together with her sister, Miss Ellen Kimball, was erecting a boarding house with the expectation of taking boarders this season, and the building was nearly completed. She was about 48 years old, a woman of culture and refinement, and great surprise is expressed at this sudden close of her life. She leaves an invalid sister, Miss Ellen Kimball, with whom she lived, and a brother, Benjamin Kimball of Franklin. The new building was on a lot adjacent to the old Kimball homestead on the shore of Newfound lake, where the sisters have lived for many years.Miss Kimball had been in poor health for some weeks and has had some trouble with her head, and it is quite likely that financial embarrassment with ill health may have caused temporary insanity.PRINCETON MOURNS CLEVELAND TODAYMayor Robinson Gives a Proclamation Requesting Suspension of Business For Six Hours.Princeton, N. J., June 26.—At the Cleveland home a score of Princeton professors and other friends of the family are arranging the details for the funeral service which will occur at five o'clock this afternoon. Mayor Robinson has issued a proclamation requesting the suspension of all business between one and seven this afternoon, and the closing of the streets on the line of march from three until the ceremony.The only jarring note in the arrangements so far has been the uncertainty as to whether an invitation was sent to Secretary Taft to attend the funeral.
The explanation is that no invitation has been sent to any one. President Roosevelt, Governors Hughes, Fort and Hoke asked permission to attend the burial, and Mr. Cleveland agreed. Secretary Taft sent no request; consequently he received no reply.Only about two hundred people, friends of the family, the presidential party and representatives of the press association will be admitted to the ceremony at the house. At present the body lies still uncoffined in the room where he died.
There will be no firing, no singing, no eulogy at the grave. "It was Mr. Cleveland request," says Mrs. Cleveland, and that is sufficient reason.HOE AS WEAPON IN AN ASSAULTGeorge Washington Cleveland Was Assaulted Yesterday Afternoon on State's Attorney's Warrant.On a warrant by State's Attorney Gates, George Washington Cleveland was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Lawson of Montpelier on the charge of breach of the peace in attacking F. V. Winslow, a neighbor, with a hoe. Winslow was hit over the head with the weapon and received a cut. It was not a serious wound, however, and Winslow is working today.
The two men are said to have had an argument over a fence. The hoe, with its broken handle, is now in the possession of the prosecution. Cleveland resides between this city and Montpelier and was recently charged by the state's attorney with driving a decrepit horse.
He will have a hearing tomorrow.

TO VERMONT DELEGATES.

Daughters of Vermont Give Reception at the Westminster.Boston, June 26.—One of the most brilliant social functions tendered the delegates to the biennial assembly of Women's Club was the informal reception given by the Daughters of Vermont to the delegates from Vermont of whom there are nearly 200, at the Westminster from 3 to 5 p. m., yesterday.The parlors were tastefully decorated with roses from a tree planted in 1855.
Mrs. A. M. Yocett of Magnolia presenting the blooms to the club. The tables were adorned with carnations and ferns.
The reception was in charge of Mrs.
Frederick Sherburne, vice president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. H.
Clark; Mrs. O. B. Johnson, Miss Adelaide Slack; Mrs. H. P. Groves, Mrs.
George Dimond, Mrs. William H. Converse and Mrs. Anthony Kelly.TRAIL OF WRECKAGE LEFT BY RUNAWAYSSeveral Narrow Escapes For Various People On Streets of St. Albans Last Evening.St. Albans, June 26.—A pair of horses, belonging to E. D. Fuller and driven by John McDougall became frightened at the head of Kingman street last evening at 8:30 o'clock and broke the neck yoke strap letting the pole down between the animals who became unmanageable.
They ran down the street and took the sidewalk on the south side breaking the large plate glass window in C. L. Cur-tis's furnishing store, throwing out the occupants. They freed themselves of the carriage and ran down to Federal street where they collided with W. L.
Head, the hackman, and threw him out though he was not seriously injured.
Their next victim was John Hattin, and he was also thrown from his wagon. A baby carriage in which was an infant was standing on the sidewalk on Federal street but a bystander saw the frightened horses in time to save the child though the carriage was wrecked. The horses were finally stopped midway between Federal and Lake streets. Mr.
McDougall was severely injured, his back being hurt and his body badly bruised and cut up. One of the horses suffered a bad gash on one leg and the carriage was nearly demolished.

JUDGE PRAISES CLEVELAND

Tributes to the ex-President in Caledonia County Court.St. Johnsbury, June 26.—Upon the assembly of Caledonia county court yesterday Judge Alfred A. Hall briefly expressed his belief in the propriety of devoting a short period in all public as-semblies to the memory of the deceased statesman, Grover Cleveland. Judge Hall feelingly emphasized the fact that in his public life President Cleveland was able, honest, and fearless, and that in his private life he was one of our first citizens. Remarks were made by Alexander Dunnett, of this place, and W. A. Dutton, of Hardwick.A divorce was granted in the case of Gertrude Lynaugh vs. James Lynaugh, on the ground of intolerable severity.
This was a St. Johnsbury case.
The case of Harry V. Wakefield vs.
A. A. Shaw, apt., which went on trial June 23, and which was an action to recover the price of an automobile, went to the jury yesterday afternoon. A verdict for the plaintiff to recover of the defendant the sum of $151.15 was returned.At the conclusion of this case the case of Guy H. Albee apt. vs. C. C.
Cole et al. was taken up. This is an action on the case for the alleged false warranty of a horse sold to plaintiff by the defendants May 4, 1907. The case will take the rest of the week for trial. The attorneys in the case are Alexander Dunnett, of St. Johnsbury, and W. A. Dutton, of Hardwick, for the plaintiff; and Howe and Hovey, of St.
Johnsbury for the defendants.ARRESTED TWO MEN FOR SHOOTING AT BALLOONCharles Rigaman and William Murphy Taken at Bartlettboro, Charged With Attempting to Kill Glidden and Stevens.Bartlettboro, June 26.—Charles Rigaman and William Murphy were arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff M. P.
Davis charged with assault with attempt to kill Charles J. Glidden of Boston and his companion, Leo Stevens of New York, while they were in the balloon Boston passing over this section Friday evening. Admissions made by young Wilfred French led to the arrests.The balloon with its two occupants was flying low over West Bartlettboro at 8:30 p. m. Friday when two rifle bullets pierced the huge gas bag. Shortly after the balloonists landed five miles further on between Dummerston and Putney and Mr. Glidden hastened back to identify the spot from which the shots were fired. He said the bullets came from behind a large white barn and he found the place adjoining the farm of Watson S. French. Wilfred French is the son of this man and Rigaman is his brother-in-law. French said that Murphy shot twice but on account of the relationship between him and Rigaman it is thought that he may perchance be trying to shift the blame on Murphy, a man not over bright.
French says that he took the gun away from Murphy after the shots were fired.A little girl, living in a nearby house, says she heard the shots and that she came out in the rain time to hear a shot from the balloon of "What the—are you trying to do?"Attorney General C. C. Fitts was in communication with Mr. Glidden at Boston last evening and the latter will probably come here for the arrangement of Rigaman and Murphy before Judge E. W. Gibson in municipal court.

Death in New York.New York, June 26.—James R. Bennett, 64 years old, a retired coffee broker, committed suicide at his home in Brooklyn last night by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. Bennett suffered severe losses during the recent financial crisis and despondency over these and his failing health is believed to have caused his suicide.COLLAPSED IN THE PINCHYale Stroke, Griswold, Failed
The Blue Crew

HARVARD HAD PROCESSION

For Two and a Half Miles It Was a Grand Race, With Harvard Slightly in the Advantage—Captains Elected.New London, Conn., June 26.—The Harvard-Yale boat race on the Thames last evening proved to be a procession but not until the Yale crew became crippled by the collapse of Griswold, the stroke of the boat, with a mile and a half to go.The race was rowed under the most favorable racing conditions, just as the sun was setting over the picturesque Thames with the water broken only by ripples, a cloudless sky, and a light northwesterly breeze.The great steel drawbridge spanning the Thames marked the start of the race, with the finish at Red Top, four miles up stream. Just above the bridge were massed the main flotilla of pleasure craft, the very pick of the Atlantic pleasure fleet, their rigging bright with signal flags, their decks alive with yachtsmen, university men and pretty girls. Further up the course, for fully four miles, stretched long lines of steam and sailing craft of every conceivable description. Through this mass of craft the racers threaded their way, with a clear, open course of 200 feet wide.
Every eye was riveted on the swaying forms in the boats, the bodies moving rhythmically, their bronzed backs bare, to the waists, with the great muscles standing out as they bent to the terrible strain of 26, then 30 and 34 strokes to the minute, cutting the frail craft through the water as with a knife.
Above the shouts from the on-lookers could be heard the shrill voices of the coxswains' megaphones to mouth, stimulating the men and marking time with "one, two, three, four."Half a mile from the start both crews were almost side by side, with Harvard only a few feet to the fore; one mile, on doggedly; two miles, Yale spurring and lessening the gap; two and a half miles, Harvard still in the lead, with open water between the boats, and Yale fighting on like grim death.

The Collapse

Now came the decisive moment, with the final stretch almost in sight. Steadily on they came, when suddenly a commotion was observed in the Yale boat, as Griswold, the stroke, hung forward over his oar and ceased to row. For nearly a minute he sat, motionless straightened up and bent to his oar again. A great shout went up from the Yale cohorts as their crew rallied for another effort. But they were now six boat lengths behind, hopelessly beaten.
Another 20 strokes and Griswold collapsed again and then the whole crew quit work and sat dejected at their oars.
Yale was out; it was no longer a race, and Harvard swung ahead alone and finished with regular "swish, swish."As Harvard sped across the line, "boom, boom" and "toot toot" went up in deafening chorus from the myriad craft, while from bank to bank rolled a chorus of Harvard yells and from every truck and mainstay broke the triumphant crimson and a bewildering maze of kaleidoscope color. In the forewater stood out the big presidential yacht with the Roosevelt children on the bridge waving lustily. Far away could be seen Secretary Taft's car, the big secretary standing bareheaded, gazing back toward the crippled Yale boat, while "rah, rah, rah, Harvard" came from the groups of college men as the secretary sped by.
Griswold had been helped from the Yale boat and lagging far behind the Harvard men with seven remaining oarsmen of the Yale crew at last made their appearance at the finish—a half mile behind Harvard—receiving a generous ovation for their pluck under such disheartening conditions.

Griswold Grief Stricken

At the Yale quarters it was found that Griswold had simply suffered a complete nervous collapse. He was quickly revived but his grief was pathetic to behold. Capt. Ide stood loyally by him, as did every man at the Yale quarters but their words of consolation only cut him to the quick. No one can ever blame an athlete who rows out his last ounce of power as Griswold did this afternoon, and there was nothing but words of sympathy for him. By the time the Yale launch got back to Gale's ferry, as was able to walk to the dressing room.

Next Years Leaders

Inside the dressing room the first thing that happened was the election of a captain for 1909. The Elis elected H. A.
Howe, 1909, of Orange, N. J., Howe is 20 years of age six feet one inch in height and weighs 186 pounds. This was the second year that he has rowed in the "varsity eight." Three years ago he rowed in his freshman class crew. He rows at No. 6.Harvard elected as her captain for 1909 W. R. Severance, 1909, of New Bedford, Mass. Severance is 21 years of age five feet eleven inches in height and weighs 177 1/2 pounds. This is the se-cond year that Severance has rowed in the Harvard "varsity."

JUST MY LUCK.

Declared Taft When Yale Crew Was Beaten Out.New Haven, Conn., June 26.—Secretary Taft yesterday sustained his first defeat since his nomination for the presidency at Chicago. He witnessed from the observation train the loss of Yale's aquatic prestige on the Thames at New London and the lowering of the blue to the crimson.After the Yale crew had stopped at the end of the third mile Secretary Taft remarked, resignedly:
"It always appears to be my luck to witness the defeats of Yale. In seventeen years we have been defeated but worse—or something like that—and I have seen both of them."RUNAWAY BOY

Years, Left His Home Yesterday at Noon and Probably Came to Barre.The Barre police were notified to be on the lookout for a runaway boy who left his home in Corinth yesterday at vestigation which would end in New boy's name is George C. Magoon, and is the son of William Magoon. The runaway was traced as far as the "Spring house" on the East Barre road and there all certain knowledge of him was lost. Patrolman Hamel however, saw a boy on Granite street last night just before the midnight train went out, the description of whom corresponds to that which was later received regarding the missing boy.Young Magoon is described as 16 years old and light-complected, weighing about 128 pounds. He wore a dark suit, dark shirt, no tie and a straw hat.

afternoon at three o'clock. Miss Mabel Blanche Stewart and Prof. Jesse Mer-Junction high school. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Walter R.

Davenport who came from Malden, Mr. Davenport being principal of the school. The marriage was a culmination of a school friendship.The bride was gowned in white point de robe spirit over white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns. Many useful and beautiful presents were received.The residence of Mr. Stewart was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and there were many invited guests, including some from out of town. The doubt ring ceremony was used. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served, and then the happy couple completely baffled their friends who had decorated a carriage in the expectation that they would start on their honeymoon by team, by slipping out of the house, thence through the woods to an automobile which was ready to be cranked up the minute they arrived.

Thence eluding their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Tebbetts were taken to the Waterbury Inn. From that place they will continue a trip through various places of the state.They will reside at Essex Junction, wide range of subjects, both state and national. Objection was made to the anti-rebate law, and there was strong condemnation of the emergency currency early revision of the tariff was de-
